

Quality Policy

- RHR Cleaning Services is committed to providing the best possible service to all of its customers all of the time.
- It is our policy to ensure customer satisfaction by delivering high quality, value for money, cleaning services.
- The policy shall be supported by employees who clearly understand their role, have appropriate knowledge, skill and experience to consistently deliver a service which meets with our customers expectations.
- The quality management standard 'BSEN ISO 9002' has been adopted to document and provide objective evidence of consistent control.
- Performance of the quality system shall be monitored by the Managing Director for compliance with the requirements of the standard and the review of set targets and objectives for improvement.

Paul Singh

Managing Director

August 2017